It is your responsibility to monitor your usage and if that usage exceeds the allocated isolated funds. It is your responsibility to pay the excess either from your core package or personally.

9. WHAT IF YOU DON'T WANT TRANSPORT ANYMORE

Let us know as soon as you can by phone or email and we will end your Service Agreement.

It is your responsibility as the participant, to ensure that you have sufficient available NDIS funds to cover your transport needs. Should your NDIS allocated funds be insufficient, then you are personally responsible for paying ATA all outstanding and future trip charges, including fees.

11. OPT OUT CONSENT

As a registered provider, the NDIS Quality and Safeguarding Framework requires that ATA undertake on-site auditing against the NDIS Practice Standards in a 3 year cycle. You as the participant are automatically enrolled into the audit process. This will mean that a member of the auditing team may contact you for an interview and/or have access to your files, records or plans to review and to ensure that ATA is meeting compliance with the standard.
